v. 8, n. 2, Jul./Dec., 2024

EDITORIAL

This second issue of 2024 brings a technical note, a review and five original articles from national as well as international Authors, demonstrating different analytical approaches. For readers, it is an interesting opportunity to see a variety of techniques and applications in the pharmaceutical sciences. Since DAR is an open access journal, this knowledge is readily available for the scientific community around the world without charges. This is our mission.

We wish you all an excellent reading and a happy new year!
