Instructions to Authors

Half-yearly periodical of UFRGS'
Post-Graduation Program in Sociology.

- 1. Sociologias – Revista do PPGS is a half-yearly publication of the Post-Graduation Program in Sociology (PPG/Sociologia) of the Institute of Philosophy and Human Sciences (IFCH) of the Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul (UFRGS). Intended to promote the interchange between national and foreign social scientists, the periodical accepts previously unpublished works, under the form of articles, book reviews and the report of researches in social sciences. The works must have academic and social interest.
2. Manuscripts must be submitted to Editoria Sociologias. Post-Graduation Program in Sociology of the Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul (UFRGS), Bento Gonçalves Avenue, 9500. Building 43111, room 103, CEP 91509-900. Porto Alegre - RS, Brazil. Phone 55 51 3316 7008 e 3316 6635. FAX 55 51 3316 6646.
3. The acceptance of articles for publication is subject to the approval of the editorial board and contributors, with guaranteed anonymity of both authors and advisors during the evaluation process. Possible suggestions from the editorial board for changes in the structure or content will be previously accorded with the authors. Additions or modifications will not be accepted after the works have been accepted for printing.
4. Articles will be evaluated according to the following criteria: quality and accuracy of the arguments, validity of the presented data, timeliness and relevance of the article to the discussion of problems in the area of research, and the adequacy and contemporaneity of the references.
5. The manuscript must contain the name of the author, name of the article and institution where the author works only in the title page. The articles will be sent to advisors. After its evaluation, the author will receive a reply of acceptance, possible suggestions of modifications or the article's refusal. In any case the manuscripts will not be returned.
6. The author must submit two printed copies of the manuscript and one copy in disk, in the standard IBM-PC format, program MS Word, with a letter stating the full name of the article, his name, his maximum degree and his position in the institution(s) where he works, as well as his complete address, email and telephones for contact.

7. The texts must be typed in font Times New Roman 12, paragraphs with first line indented, justified, double-spaced (or 1.5) on standard A4 paper (210x297), on one side of the page.
8. The articles must have at least 10 pages and must not exceed 7 thousand words; books reviews and commentaries should not exceed 8 pages.
9. For literal bibliographical quotations in the text the author must use the author-date system. Short literal quotations (less than three lines) must be integrated in the paragraph, put in italic and followed by the last name of the author related in the text, year of publication and page(s) of the text quoted, all of it between parentheses and separate by commas. The quotations with more than three lines must be separated from the text in a special paragraph and indented (four spaces to the right of the left margin). All quotations must be in italic and without quotations marks. References with no literal quotation must be incorporated into the text, indicating between parentheses, at the end, the last name of the author and the year of publication. Foreign words must be put in italic, without quotations marks.
10. The manuscripts should be written in Portuguese or Spanish. In addition to the title and abstract (100 to 200 words) in Portuguese or Spanish, the articles must include an abstract in English. The author must indicate up to 5 key words to facilitate proper indexation of the article.
11. Notes, if necessary, must be numbered consecutively within the text and placed at the foot of the page.
12. Figures, graphs, maps, tables, pictures and photographs must have title and source, and they should be numbered. They must be in conditions to allow reliable reproduction and qualitative printing, and should be submitted as a separate file rather than inserted in the text, with clear indications throughout the text of the location where the images must be inserted.
13. The periodical is not responsible for concepts stated by the authors. The spontaneous submission of any contribution automatically implies the complete cession of copyrights to the PPGS.
14. The contributor will be gratuitously supplied with three copies of the periodical's volume in which his article is published.
15. The references must be at the end of the paper, in alphabetical order and in accordance with ABNT rules, as shown in the following examples:
